

Biography of Loyd Richeson

Loyd Richeson is the newly appointed Medina County Democratic Chair and a seasoned professional with more than 28 years of experience in the Turf and Grounds industry. Now retired, he served as a Turf and Grounds Manager of Brookhaven Country Club in the Dallas–Fort Worth Metroplex from 1994 until his retirement, building a long-standing reputation for leadership and operational excellence. Earlier in his career, Loyd owned and operated Dublin Danville Equipment Co. in California, specializing in turf equipment sales and service. Among his defining achievements are patents for two turf equipment devices still in use today. He also was a supervisor for a construction team, building all new structures on a 350-acre facility including two restaurants and several supersize Gazeboes.

As Democratic County Chair, Loyd is focused on strengthening the Democratic Party in Medina County by increasing voter turnout and supporting continued growth across the community. He brings a collaborative leadership style, values fresh perspectives, and is committed to engaging and expanding younger membership.

He emphasized his commitment to expand outreach efforts and encourage broader participation in the political process. His leadership style focuses on inclusivity, teamwork, and developing the next generation of community leaders.

A dedicated family-oriented individual, Loyd has been married for 25 years and is the proud father of four children and grandfather of ten. He combines decades of professional experience with a strong commitment to community and public service in his new role.

Loyd brings a strong blend of business experience and community focus to the role, with a commitment to making a meaningful impact and strengthening civic engagement across Medina County.
